

Bentham of Henry Smith deceased was presented in Court, and Lynn Turner one of the executors therein named renounced his right of qualifying the said will and was examined as a witness and it appearing from the testimony of said Lynn Turner and others witnesses examined by the Court that the said paper contains a disposition of the personal estate of the said Henry Smith deceased agreeing to what he declared to be his witnesses to be the disposition he had made thereof, and moreover that the said paper was written by the said Lynn Turner by the direction of the said Henry Smith and afterwards approved by him, and moreover that the said Henry Smith did not express to any of the said witnesses in his life time any wish to alter his said will except as to a tract of land purchased by him after the making thereof, wherefore it is considered by the Court that the said last will and Testament be established as the will of the said Henry Smith deceased so far and so far only as to pass the personal estate to which the said Henry Smith deceased intitled, and in the manner of Ethelred Smith one of the executors named in the said will probate is granted him thereupon, whereupon the said Ethelred Smith gave bond the will directing no security to be given by the executors and whereupon the said Ethelred Smith qualified according to law of the Land at a Court held for the County of Southampton the 15th day of August 1814 on the motion of Obedy D.
