A paper writing without subscribing witnesses, purporting to be the last will and testament of W C Lewis dec'd, is exhibited ~~before~~ for probate in open court by I I York; and it is thereupon proven by the oath and examination of said I. I. York that the said will was found among the valuable papers and effects of the said W C Lewis after his death and it is further proved by the oath and examination of three competent witnesses, to wit: I. I. York, Henry Garmon & C H Garmon that they are acquainted with the handwriting of the said W C Lewis, having often seen him write and verily believe that the name of the said W C Lewis subscribed to the said will, and the said will itself together with every part thereof is in the handwriting of the said W C Lewis dec'd. And it is further proved by the evidence of the three last mentioned witnesses, that the said handwriting is generally known to the acquaintances of the said W C Lewis. It is therefore considered and adjudged by the Court that the said paper writing is the last will and testament of the said W C Lewis, and the same is ordered to be recorded and filed.

Sworn to and subscribed before me by I. I. York, Henry Garmon and C H Garmon this Sept. 19 1895
