In re Last Will and Testament of Josiah Collins, deceased,

In the Superior Court of Washington County, N.C. } Before the Clerk,

It appearing to the Court and being found as a fact that about year 1870 all wills and records in this County, all books containing recs of the same and all indexes thereto were destroyed by fire, together with a paper in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court pertaining in an way to wills and testaments and records thereof and the paper hereinafter set out purporting to be a true copy of the last will and testament of Josiah Collins, deceased, probated by the proper Court of Washington County at May Term 1866, and ordered recorded by the said Court, signed by H. F. Sanderson, Clerk, said certified copy being actually in hand writing of H. F. Sanderson, Clerk, and being certified by said Clerk as a true copy under his hand, and it being made to appear to the Court, and the Court finding as a fact that every part of said certified copy, including the will itself, the order of probate, the inventory, and the certificates that it is a true copy, is in the handwriting of the said H. F. Sanderson, as testified to by three disinterested witnesses, who testify that they are familiar with the handwriting of the said H. F. Sanderson and that they have examined said certified copy and verily believe the each and every part thereof, including the will itself, the order of probate, the inventory and the certificates as to its being a true copy, are in the handwriting of said H. F. Sanderson, and the Court being satisfied of the genuineness of said paper.

It is further adjudged that the original of which said paper is a certified copy was actually probated by the Court of Pleas and Quaills Sessions of Washington County as the last will and testament of said Josiah Collins, deceased, and as such was actually recorded in the proper office and no legal effect was operative in every respect as the last will and testament of the said Josiah Collins, and It is therefore adjudged and decreed that the certified copy hereinafter set out be spread upon the records of this Court in the proper will book and that it shall operate in every respect as fully as the original record thereof could have done.
