6 P.^o I William Reynolds of Wadmelaw make this my last Will and Testament. I resign my Soul to its Creator in all humble hope of its future happiness as in the disposal of a Being infinitely just and my body to be buried at the discretion of my relatives, and as to my Estate my just debts being first paid, I dispose of it in the following manner. To my loving wife I give and bequeath the plantation where I now live called Mudbluff together with a blacker part of the personal Estate, to her and her heirs forever. All the rest of my Estate both real and personal I give to be equally divided among my children, share and share alike to them and their heirs forever, and should any of my children die unmarried or under age then my will is that their portions of the Estate be equally divided among the Survivors or Survivor of them to them and their heirs forever, and if all should die under age or day of marriage then these property or the whole Estate shall go to my 1 & 1
