Whereas a difference is now subsisting between David Sloan of the one part, & Polly Sloan, Widow of William Sloan deceased of the other part; Which difference or dispute, is submitted to our arbitration by the bonds of the Testator's Executors bearing date the 27th June last. And Whereas we the said Arbitrators have met with the said Parties on this 27th September 1796. in order to inquire into & adjust, with the said difference or dispute. — David Sloan produces to us a bill of sale of two Negroes, named Sambo, and Joo, executed by William Sloan, bearing date the 16th July 1794. and availing the right of the said Negroes in him the said David. — This Bill of Sale or such a paper was sufficiently proved to have been executed by the said William at the time of its date: but no consideration was proved to have been given by David, nor delivery of the property, to have been made by William, neither at that time nor at any subsequent period; nor does David plead the one or the other. Polly Sloan produces several witnesses on her part, whose testimony con- sidered together, and each other, substantially proving that one Hunter in Georgia, a Settler of this Country, had employed Wm Sloan as a Deputy Surveyor, and had sent Warrants, from the Georgia Land Office, into his hands to survey a Quantity of land, which was not done by the said William to the satisfaction of the said Hunter who commenced suit for Damages in this State v. the said William, who obtained a non suit in our Court v. the said Hunter, who renewed his suit by writ of Attache- ments in Georgia, that said William attended the Court to which the said writ was returned — That the attachment was executed in Court as illegal, or some how improper on, about the 15th of July 1794. That the said William was informed by his friends, or both, that writ was preparing by the said Hunter to take him in Georgia, and he was advised with all possible speed to cross the river to South Carolina which he did, but told a Witness he would immediately make over his property, least Hunter should recover unjustly against him. — That the Bill of Sale bears date the 16th July 1794. — That he the said William afterwards told the said Witness and several others, that he had made over his property to his Brother David, — or that he had given a bill of Sale of the two Negroes, by name Joo, & Sambo to his said Brother David, on purpose to secure them from Hunter, in case he should recover against him. — That the said William said offer to sell both of the said Negroes more than a year after the date of the said bill of Sale, and test shortly before his death. — That the witness told this to David Sloan after the death of William — That David replied that if his brother had sold them the sale would have been good, that his said Brother was always at liberty to take them back again any time in his life.

time - That he never intended to have taken them from the Widows, nor did he claim them as having paid money for them - This conversation with the Witness the said David Sloan fully consented to before us. - Therefore, upon such full and plain evidence, we the arbitrators cannot doubt, but the said Negroes Joe Hambo were made over by the said William to the said David, in order to secure them from seizure, had he recovered against the said William, who we think intended to have taken up the said Bill of Sale had he not been taken off by a sudden & untimely death. We also are of opinion that if it had been the intention of the said William, that his said Decedent, he would have bequeathed also in his last Will & Testament not by bill of sale, without either delivery or possession which if legal or of any force, would have enabled David to have taken the Negroes at any time, even before the death of William - For these reasons, & others which might be adduced, we are of opinion, and do award that the said two Negroes Joe Hambo, are still the just & legal rights of the Estate of William Sloan decd. Notwithstanding the said bill of sale - Given under our hands & seals this 17th day of Oct. 1796.

Whereas a difference is now subsisting between David Sloan of the one part, & Polly Sloan Widow of William Sloan deceased of the other part; Which difference or dispute, is submitted to our arbitration by the bonds of the respective parties bearing date the 29th June last. And Whereas we the said Arbitrators have met with the said Parties on this 21st September 1796. in order to inquire into and adjust, settle the said difference, or dispute. — David Sloan produces to us a bill of sale of two Negroes, named Sambo, and Joo, executed by William Sloan, bearing date the 14th July 1794. and vesting the right of the said negroes in him the said David. — This bill of sale or such a paper was sufficiently proved to have been executed by the said William at the time of its date: but no consideration was proved to have been given by David, nor delivery of the property, to have been made by William, neither at that time nor at any subsequent period; nor does David plead the one or the other. Polly Sloan produced several witnesses on her part, whose testimony corroborated & strengthened each other, substantially proving that one Hunter in Georgia, at the first settlement of this Country, had employed Wm Sloan as a Deputy Surveyor, and had sub. Warrants, from the Georgia land Office, into his hands to survey a Quantity of land, which was not done by the said William to the satisfaction of the said Hunter who commenced suit for Damages in this State v. the said William, who obtained a nonsuit in our Court v. the said Hunter, who renewed his suit by writ of Attachment in Georgia, that said William attended the Court to which the said writ was returned — That the attachment was executed in Court as Alleged, or some how improper, on, or about the 15th of July 1794. That the said William was informed by his counsel, his friends, or both, that Writ was preparing by said Hunter to take him in Georgia, and he was advised with all possible speed to cross the river into South Carolina which he did, but told a Witness he would undesignately make over his property, least Hunter should recover unjustly against him. — That the bill of sale bears date the 16th July 1794. — That he the said William afterwards told the said Witness and several others, that he had made over his property to his Brother David, — or that he had given a bill of sale of the two Negroes, by name viz, for Sambo to his said Brother David, on purpose to secure them from Hunter, in case he should recover against him. — That the said William said offer to sell both of the said Negroes more than a year after the date of the said bill of sale, and test shortly before his death. — That the witness told this to David Sloan after the death of William — That David replied that if his brother had told them the sale would have been good, that his said Brother was always at liberty to take them back again any time in his life.
