

The last will and Testament of Mary Purvis. I Mary Purvis being of sound mind but conscious that my end of life is fast approaching and being anxious before I die to make some provision for my two daughters Haynes Purvis and Charlotte Purvis the first named being an adult and the second named an infant under the age of twenty one years do make and ordain this to be my last will & Testament revoking any other testamentary Paper I may have heretofore made.

And first I Commit my soul to God who gave it.

And second I desire all my just debts to be paid.

And third-- I give and devise and bequeath to James D. Tradewell all my Estate real and personal whatsoever principally consisting of my House and Lot in the Town of Columbia where I now reside bounded on the East by Gates Street on the West by a lot belonging to John W. Bradley on the North by a lot belonging to James Anderson and on the South by a lot belonging to Mary Glover Together with all the rights members Hereditaments and the like thereunto appertaining Nevertheless for the following purposes and upon the following Trust, That is to say for the purposes of the support and maintenance from the income thereof of my two daughters Haynes Purvis and Charlotte Purvis which income shall be expended for their joint benefit and upon the Trust that the said James Tradewell shall hold the said House and Lot under this my last will and Testament as to the legal title for the benefit of my said two daughters exclusively without the same being in any way subject to the debts or contracts of any man or men with whom my said daughter on Either of them may hereafter intermarry.

To Carry this will into effect fully as I intend I hereby empower the said James Tradewell by and with the authority and direction of the Court of Equity to sell and reinvest ~~and~~ the proceeds the said House and Lot in any way that may be ordered by the said Court so that the object of this my last will and Testament may be properly fulfilled.
