James McMillan's Will

In the name of God Amen. I James McMillan being sick and weak in body but sound in mind and memory of my understanding, praised be God for it, and considering the certainty of death and the uncertainty of the time thereof and to that end I may be the better prepared to leave this world whenever it shall please God to call me hence do therefore make and declare this my last will and testament in manner following that is to say, and first I commit my soul into the hands of my Creator who gave it and my body to be interred in an decent and Christian like manner. And as to my worldly estate which with it hath pleased God to intrust me I dispose of as followeth. first it is my wish that all my just debts be paid. Secondly it is my intention to give to ^{my wife} ~~James~~ ^{her} in consequence of his misfortune, then to my other nephews and nieces. I therefore give him in addition to the amount to which he will be entitled at the death of his mother two thousand dollars to be paid over to his proper Guardian before the general distribution of my estate. Thirdly, to my faithful slave Rachel of her two children Thomas and Mariah and any and all other children if any that should have before this provision of my will shall be accented I give their freedom and request my Executors to take such measures as shall become necessary to secure them the freedom of said negroes. I also give and bequeath to my brother Henry McMillan two shares

£1000 said dollars in trust for the maintenance & support of the said Negroes when they shall become free. Fourthly, I give and bequeath to Emily McMillan for attending to freeing said Negroes, and the management of the said two thousands given for the benefit of said Negroes, one thousand dollars. Fifthly the balance of my property after paying the before mentioned bequests & debts, it is my will and desire should be divided into 2 equal parts and that one part to be paid to each of my brothers Emory and Daniel, and the other four parts to be paid over in such a manner to trustees who seem to the use and benefit of one part to each of my Sisters Susan Brazel, Mary Brazel, Milder Thulin and Malinda McMillan during their lives and at the death of my said Sisters or either of them that the part hereby given for the use of each Sister or Sisters should be equally divided among the children of such Sister or Sisters.

It being my intention after the before mentioned Special bequests that my Estate should be equally divided among my Brothers & Sisters but that it shall not be in the power of my Sisters or their husbands to waste or squander my property I do hereby their children after their death of the use of my said property is that it is my will that Emory McMillan, Daniel Mc Millan and Lewis Crossly be and I do hereby appoint them executors of this my last will and testament, and do authorize and empower them to sell all my Estate both real and personal on such terms and times as they shall or may judge expedient and to make good and sufficient deeds and conveyances therefor, the power of sale and making the conveyances to be executed or executors who may qualify as such and the conveyances by such executor or executors to be valid. In witness whereof I James McMillan do hereby publish this my last will and testament before all others this eighth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty seven.
