William Henderson's Will.

In Thursday evening the 30th September 1830, my dear William Henderson being on his death bed and in the full possession of his senses, mentioned to me that he wished the following disposition to be made of his property viz. to his sister Matilda he wished all his property of every description and money to be given, except a wagon and a single gun which he wished in another hand and a negro girl Hannah which he wished given to his sister Jane, with the further request, that if his Negro woman Rose should have another child, the child should also be given to his sister Jane. I enquired of him what disposition he wished to be made of the land, to which he replied that his sister Matilda might manage that with her brother as she might think fit.

Given under my hand this 12th day of October 1830.
