William Nightman to Will

In the name of God amen, I William Nightman, a native of Ireland, now a citizen of the United States, and a inhabit in Monroe State of Alabama, do make public declaration this to be my last will and testament. It being my request, that all my said debt be discharged with as great promptitude as if I were living.

2^d. To my dear sister Nancy Nightman I give and bequeath, the sum of Six hundred dollars, with interest from the time of my death, to be paid as then might possible be some delay in her receiving the money. And whereas I have reasons to think that my Sister, owing to a too refined magnanimity of feeling, may refuse accepting of this bequest. But as I consider it more of a debt due, than as a bequest, It is my will that no refusal or her part, is to be considered absolute, until at least three years after my decease.

3^d. All my Household, or other furniture with every thing connected therewith in Township of . . . I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Madeline Nightman, to my son John, I give and bequeath, the painting of the death of General Wolf, my ever beloved & revered Mother & Father Portraits, with whatever books I may have, in my own library - and to my sister Nancy, the portrait of our deeply regretted brother, The Honorable William Nightman.

4th. The one third of the remainder of said property I may then be found worth, I give and bequeath to my wife Madeline Nightman; and the other two thirds of said property, to be equally divided between our children - viz our son John and daughter Ann with any other, we may have or the ~~Survivors~~ ^{or Survivors} of them.

5th. In case it should so happen, in the all-wise dispensation of providence, that none of my children should arrive at years of maturity, or have reached their portion, or Legacies which might occur in the

of my daughter, Maying previous to that time of with the approbation of my wife, if living, or if not, the executor to this instrument, or her nearest relation) I will and bequeath the one half of what ever property should have been coming to my children, had they lived or to the survivor of them, had he or she lived, to my wife, and the other half of said property to my sister Nancy Nightman; and in case sister, should not then be in I will & bequeath her half of said property (I have bequeathed to her) to be equally divided among my nephews John and Chas. McMiller & their sister Margaret McMiller & my nieces (the daughters of my paternal brother, James Wrightman, Eliza, Margaret, Mary and Ann Wrightman or their survivors of them, or their heirs—and to their relations, I likewise give and bequeath my wife half of the aforementioned property in case my wife in such event should not be in existence and should not have made any other disposition of said property—Lastly— I hereby constitute and appoint my beloved wife, Madeline W. ~~McMiller~~ James Simpson, John of Cyprus James Hood James of Cyprus and John Simpson
