

I desire to be buried in the graveyard where my deceased children lie. All my real, personal and perishable property of my estate except one bed and clothing and five head of cattle, be reserved for my daughter, Martha N. Worley. Immediately after my death all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid. Fifty dollars to be reserved and applied later.

I give to my niece Charlotte Worley a child's part of the above mentioned estate during her natural life and what remains after death. I give the same to my children, hereinafter mentioned, divided equally among them. Out of the remainder of my estate, I give to my daughter, Eliza A. Nelson, one sixth part and after her death to the heirs of her body. To my daughter Luiza, one sixth part and after her death to the heirs of her body. To my daughter, Salina Irvin, one sixth part together with the $50.00 dollars mentioned above and after her death to the heirs of her body. To my daughter, Nancy C. Hill, one sixth part and after her death to the heirs of her body. I give to my daughter, Martha N. Worley, one sixth part together with the above mentioned personal property and after her death to the heirs of her body. To my son, Newton C. Worley, one sixth part to be used as he thinks proper. I appoint as executors my son, Newton C. Worley, and my friend John Allison.
