

SEWICKLEY MEETING

Sewickley Meeting was established in 1799 in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania was set up as a Preparative Meeting in 1826 by Redstone Quarterly Meeting. The Meeting was established by pioneer Friends who migrated from Adams, Philadelphia and Washington Counties.

A deed dated December 12, 1832 records the donation of land by James McGrew: McGrew willed to the Society of Friends, April 11, 1805, seven acres of land in Sewickley Township for a meeting house and burial ground." From 1799 until 1805 meetings were conducted in members homes. In the latter year, a one room log house was erected. The surrounding seven acres was plotted as a graveyard. By 1893 the meeting declined membership to the extent that only a few members were left. A deed dated March 14, 1893 says, "The Society of Friends, Sewickley Township, sold to J. M. Guffey of Pittsburgh Alleghany County, the coal under the seven acres of ground for $628.75." Another deed dated June 6, 1907, states that "the Society of Friends, Sewickley Township, sold to Salem (Ohio) Monthly Meeting the seven acres of ground in their possession."

On authority of the oldest resident of the community, the Meeting held its last session in 1928 and in the same year it was laid down by Salem Quarterly Meeting.
