Will

I, J. L. Orr, of Camden, Benton County, Tennessee, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make and publish this my last will and testament.

First, I direct that all my just debts shall be paid, and if the debts due me, and the proceeds of the sale of my perishable property be insufficient for that purpose then I direct that proceeds of my life insurance policies be used before anything is paid to any beneficiary of said policies, and if those sources of funds are insufficient then I direct that my personal property shall next be sold and the funds be applied to my debts.

Second, I hereby appoint my wife, Guardian of my younger son, John Journey Orr, and suggest that she make reasonable bond as such guardian, and suggest that my older son, Ray Clay Orr, be accepted as sole surety on said guardian bond, if he so desires.

Third: I give, devise and bequeath all my property, both real and personal, to my beloved wife, Estelle Brown Orr and to my dear sons Ray Clay Orr and John Journey Orr in equal parts, but I direct that any real estate which I may have not be sold for twenty years, but the income is to be divided among my sons and wife. Of course, this provision does not refer to the bond which I now own as tenant by the entirety with my wife, Estelle.

Fourth, I direct that my automobile business in Camden, Tenn., which will be owned by my sons and wife Estelle jointly be operated and managed by my wife and sons, where each is all equal in share in the work and management, and Estelle and son Ray Clay Orr will receive a reasonable salary, the amount to be
