

July 1900.

Lockey Jane Scott.

I, Lockey Jane Scott, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do make and publish this as my last Will and Testament.

First. I desire and direct that all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid out of the first money that comes into the hands of the Executor here in appointed.

Second. I will give and bequeath to my daughter, L. J. Logan, Twenty Five Dollars, provided she remains with me until my death, to be paid to her by my Executor out of my personal estate.

Third. I will, demise, give and bequeath to my son, William H. Scott, all of my personal property and Real Estate of every kind and description that I may own and be possessed of at the time of my death. The real estate is the little home farm on which I now live. I mean and intend hereby to give to my said son,

William H. Scott, all the property of every kind and description that I own at my death including any money that I may have on hand subject alone to the payment of my just debts and funeral expenses and the conditional bequest to L. J. Logan. I do not give any thing to any of my other children for the reason that they have already gotten all that I think best to give them out of my small estate.

Fourth. I hereby nominate my son in law,

James C. Taylor as Executor of this my last Will and Testament.

Witness my hand, this the 18th day of June 1897.

Lockey Jane ^{the} Scott.

Signed and sealed in our presence and we witness same at request of the testator.

George Robbin.

John W. Eakin.

I, John W. Eakin of Maryville, Blount County, Tennessee, do make and declare this to be my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking any will by me heretofore made.

First: I give and bequeath to my daughter, Jennie Stella Eakin, after the payment of my debts. All my household and kitchen furniture, including my piano; all my bank stock, and one milk cow and calf, and one half interest in the tract of land on which I now reside - or may hereafter own, and be possessed of - and one half interest in my horse and buggy; and one half of any money or note I may have at the time of my death; also one half of my life insurance policy.

October, 1900.

Second: To my son John Samuel Eakin, after the payment of my debts, I will and bequeath all my farming tools, wagons and harness, one half interest in my horse and buggy and one half in all the lands I may own at the time of my death, also one half of all the money or notes that I may die seized of. And one half of my life insurance policy. I have in the Equitable Insurance Company.

Third: It is my desire that my debts be paid out of moneys that may be on hand at my death and should there be any other property owned by me at the time of my death, I wish it to be equally divided between my above named two children.

Fourth: The property herein above bequeathed to my daughter, Jennie Stella, is to be hers, free from any marital rights of any present or future husband she may have.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand, this the 6th day of May, 1900

Madison Cox

I, Madison Cox of Blount County, Tenn. Knowing the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, and being desirous of winding up my worldly affairs and distributing my estate equally between my children as near as my best judgment directs and being in usual health, of sound mind and disposing memory, do make and publish.

October, 1900.

This as my last Will & Testament, hereby revoking and making void, any and all wills by me at any time heretofore made.

First, I direct that my body be buried in a decent and respectable manner, and that my funeral expenses and all my just and legal debts and obligations be paid as soon after my demise as practical.

Second, I will, bequeath & devise to my daughter, Sallie B. Cox, my riding pony named Fanny, and two year old bay filly named one Cow, her choice of any cow on hand at my death. Also two hundred and twenty acres of land off the north side of my home farm where I now live in the 15th Civil Dist. of Blount County, on the Maryville and Louisville road. The line to be run so as to include on Sallie's land, a house on the south side of the big road known as the Morganton road where John Singleton now lives and also a stock Barn on the north side of said Morganton road just across the branch from Singleton's house.

Also two hundred and fifty acres of land off the south side of my home farm, the line to be run so as to include the House & Pond where Porter Hadson formerly lived, now W. J. Cunningham, on the Maryville & Louisville great Road, both of said lines on the North & South side to be run in such way as to do the least damage to the remaining interest of my home farm. My said daughter Sallie is to have, one half of all my household and Kitchen furniture on hand at my death, also one half of the household furniture of her share.
