Codicil.

I being of sound mind but feeble in body do make this as a codicil to my will.

I will devise and give to my beloved wife, S. E. McClung my house and lot in Blount County in Maryville where I now live to be hers in fee.

She having the full right to sell or dispose of same as she may please.

But in case she does not sell same at her death, I desire and direct that the property go to my seven children, viz. V. B. Etta, Carrie, Dennis, Carl R., Clarence M., and Rena McClung. Provided that Rena shall pay off a mortgage of $2,000 on said property otherwise she gets none of said property but goes to other six above named.

If my wife should sell said property and any of the proceeds be left at her death said proceeds shall go to my children in the same manner as stated in the codicil.

This Feb. 21st 1899.

John C. McClung

Signed by us at the request of John C. McClung and in his presence and in the presence of both other as a codicil of his will.
