DICKSON COUNTY

Dickson County was created by an Act of the Tennessee Legislature, October 3, 1803, and was cut from Robertson and Montgomery Counties, Tennessee. The county was named in honor of William Dickson, a member of Congress from the More District.

The first settlement in this county began in 1795 when a large body of land was granted by the State of North Carolina to Robert Bell and described as being located on Jones Creek. In February of the same year the Cumberland Furnace was started by James Robertson by whom it was sold to Montgomery Bell.

Charlotte is the county seat. Charlotte is a small village without railroad connection.
 Among the first settlers were:

James Nesbitt	Montgomery Bell
Sterling Brower	William Deak
William Russell	Gabriel Allen
William Teas	Samuel Harvey
Richard Napier	James Craft (Craft)
Abraham Caldwell	Madison Johnson

This book contains the first 104 wills recorded in Dickson County, Tennessee.
