A postscript note of Richard A. Brown

The way of report was that all his property he left together with his children because of poor health thus there is to be an equal division between his wife and each of his children who gave him two yrs to pay. I am further of the opinion that if his wife would so move it is her right that our brother John McNamee be appointed guardian of my son a slave my belief is that she is fit fully to rule her lands & move to her father's who has a son that his children to settle this as well as his estate will allow. I have a witness signature of my son this day
