Residing up estate &c

Total disbursement by Executor

The Executor retains $200.00 of this sum to purchase land & stones and improve the premises of the Estate John Chattem and his wife Catharine to be separately accounted for.

Balance in hands of Executor for distribution among Legates

$7287.42

This leaves in the hands of the Executor unaccounted for equal to be himself account for some old notes reported in original inventory neglected as worthless. One tract of land sold by said Executor on the 6th day of March 1867 on a credit of one and two years with interest from date to E. B. Chattem at $25.00 per cent and said purchase being made to pay for the same it was taken back by Executor which with interest & rents also of $200.00 retained to purchase land & stones, the Executor omitted to add in the aggregate estate $5.00 Advancements on family back to J. H. Brown which he will account for in final settlement.

And the Executor presents Affidavits showing conclusively that the profits in Gold deposited by Executor with John E. Chattem were taken by said Executor from off the profits of John E. Chattem's wife's robbery during the late War and that the same ought not therefore to be collected from John E. Chattem. The Executor is therefore relieved from all liability as agent of the said J. H. Brown deposited as reported in inventory.
