The Noncompetitive Will of William Baker.

From the evidence of Andrew Davis and John Mitchell. It appears that the said William Baker died at or near the City of New Orleans in the Service of the United States as a Volunteer, on the 25th of January in the year of one thousand eight hundred & fifteen. He declared in his last Will & Testament in the presence of John Mitchell & Andrew Davis that all his just debts should be paid, And he requested that his gun should be brought home, and returned to his Brother Robert Baker. He also declared it to be his last Will that all his property of which he died possessed, should be immediately put in the possession of his Mother Ann Baker to be and remain in her possession during her life, and that she enjoys the benefit of said personal property. He also declared that his pay as a Volunteer down to New Orleans amounting to the sum of fifty dollars or thereabouts should be paid to his brother Robert Baker, and that he should pay all his just debts out of the same. Given under our hands this 19th day of April 1815.

Further the undersigned declare that the property given to his Mother, he said that on her death it should be equally divided among his two Brothers Robert Baker & James Baker and that he called on the undersigned to witness what he made said as being his last Will.

In Obediance to an Order of Court to us directed the first Instant, We have attended to the fixing the following Boundaries of a Tract of land, belonging to John McCalister - And certify, that the beginning of said tract of land, calling for Twelve Thousand Acres - is at two dead Walnut trees and a Walnut Stump, proven to us by the deposition of William Corbin, to be the Original beginning and is situated near William Corbin's place and about twenty eight poles south forty degrees West, to the spring head, where Doctor Roberts formerly lived, on said Land, and where we fixed, or planted a Stone marked thus (MA 1816) and marked two Gum and Sycamore Trees.

Then we marked the line North Eighty eight and a half degrees East eighty nine poles to the North east corner, near said Corbin's place which said corner was proven to us by the deposition of said Corbin to be an Original corner, the Hickories called for in the deed of conveyance being dead, as well as dogwood. We marked three black Oaks & a white Oak Sapling & planted another stone marked thus (MA 1816) N^o 1, being about fifty five poles South, seventy degrees West, from the head of a large spring on said tract of land; Then we went on the South line & marked it to the South east corner fifteen hundred & twelve poles to two Honey Locusts called for in said Deed of conveyance which stand on the North Bank of the Middle fork of Barton's Creek one of the Honey Locusts being fallen down & which was proven to us by the deposition of said William Corbin to be an Original corner, & where we planted another Stone marked thus (MA 1816) N^o 2, & also marked said Honey Locust a fresh, also two Sycamores at the edge of the Creek, and a Hickory, Maple, and two Spanish Oak Saplings as pointers. In Obediance to an Order of the Worshipful Court of Montgomery County to us Stirling Mellett John McCalley & John Thomas acting Justices of the peace for said County George Todd & John McCalley Justices of the same, made out this 27th day of May 1816 at William Corbin's place, the beginning of Nashes Twelve thousand acre Survey being at present to John Wallister, and in the presence of Thomas Mellett, James Holmes, & Others, the following Question was put to William Corbin by John McCalister, to wit,

Question 1st What do you know relative to said land after his being duly sworn agreeably to Law made the following Answer to wit,

Answer 1st About 18 or 19 years ago Haydon Wells shewed me these three black Walnut trees (then standing & dead at that time) but now dead & all fell down but one, which trees he said was the beginning of Nashes survey of twelve thousand acres of land, and that I have lived at this place nearly ever since that time, and has now as yet heard it contradicted.

Question 2nd by ditto to Ditto at the North East corner of said large survey Jas. Gairin & J^{os} B. Atkinson & others present, what do you know respecting the N^o East corner

Answer Haydon Wells shewed me two marked Hickories and a dogwood (pointing to a dead Hickory stump) & told me that these trees was the first corner, of the twelve thousand acre survey, all of which trees was dead when he shewed them to me, but standing.

Question 3rd by Ditto to Ditto at the South East corner in the presence of Thomas Mellett James Gairin & Others, what do you know respecting this corner &c.

Answer about 15 years ago I was employed as a Chain Carrier under Duncan Stewart Surveyor, who was employed by Nashes heirs to have said tract resurveyed, and when we run to the middle fork of Barton's Creek we found these two honey Locusts marked as corner trees one of which was then broke down, Nevertheless they agreeing with the Original call in the patent was considered by the Surveyor together with myself & all others present to be the genuine corner of said Survey, and further your Deposition at present, faith not, sworn to & subscribed the day year first written in the presence of us

We did not mark nor we did not make a corner either at the horn beam or near the said small spring, and from said horn beam we proceeded due north 800 poles to the beginning of which line
 We have caused to be plainly marked, being the one running East from said small spring, left open for future investigation and upon examining said horn beam & poplar marked B. E. P. & R. D.
 we found at the distance of 480 poles there was a true marked as a corner which it appears by James & Brown's Deposition was proved to be the true corner of said
 Clarke by one James Deason, and as appears by Burwell Mr. Williamson's Deposition has long been reported to be such; & we having proceeded to a Sage pole which stands 232 poles North of said 2 ashes, we there again examined said witness & the same was proven to be the beginning corner of Clarke survey as will appear by the Depositions here referred to and made a part of this our Report, and We said Commissioners upon considering the matters herein stated are of opinion that the said poplar or a point near the same is the true place of beginning for said grant of 1850.
