A copy of which is respectfully submitted and its ratification recommended. Your Clerk would respectfully state to your worship, that in making this settlement, your clerk could only take the papers as they stood, as appears from the face of the papers, that the creditors, well as as the administrator, ascertained before the against the estate were paid, that the Estate was insured and that by Common Consent, each received his proper and gave receipts on the notes and accounts, stating that the same was done "after full distribution", it appears to your clerk that such receipts & the claims given up would not have been given unless the parties had been satisfied, each claim having its receipt as aforesaid - therefore your clerk recommends the receipt of the settlement as full & final, as it appears to be the best that can ever be done the Administrator being liable for any further claims or demands not mentioned in this settlement -

Respectfully
