The Last will of

R. P. Golt

I R. P. Golt being weak in body but of reasonable mind and memory do publish this my last will and testament after revoking all other wills made by me heretofore, and all of my children being of lawful age, and as it respects my personal property, including horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, farming utensils, including my wagon and gearing and household and kitchen furniture also my library of books to be equally divided between my children. I give and bequeath to my wife Rachel one hundred dollars out of a note I hold on for A. Childress. The farm I live on I give to my son Childress the proceeds of the same to be equally divided between them or I will that the land be kept in the family and the heirs to sell or buy to one or another of my children as it may suit their convenience except the seventy six and a half acre tract I bought of Henry Brantstetter I give and bequeath that to my unfortunate son James so long as he lives for his use and benefit and when he dies I will it to revert back to the balance of my children. I also appoint my son

Wills Admitted to Record in Sullivan County Court

Harvey his Guardian, to see that he is provided for the said farm as the old Golt farm my part of the same being one hundred twenty acres. I also give and bequeath to my children. I also will that my wife Rachel have a good and ample support out of the proceeds of my two farms as so long as she remains my widow, as it respects my notes, debt, and judgments I wish to be collected as soon as practicable and be equally divided between my children after all of my just debts being paid. I also appoint my son David Golt and Peter N. Cooley to be the executors of this my last will and testament. This 16th April 1874

The Last Will & Testament

of Reuben Hicks deceased

I know all men by these presents that I Reuben Hicks being of perfect mind and memory do make and publish this my last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all other wills by me at any time made.

First I direct that my funeral expenses, and all my debts be paid as soon after my death as possible out of any money that I may be the possessor of or may first come into the hands of my executor.

Secondly I will and bequeath to my wife enough of my household property, means and effects sufficient to do her amply during her natural life and while she remains my widow.

Thirdly, I will and bequeath to my oldest son A. J. Hicks the farm or tract of land on which he now lives known as the Glover tract with every thing thereunto belonging or appertaining.

Fourthly, I will and bequeath to my two sons John C. Hicks and William C. Hicks together the farm on which I now
