I, Mary Boyer second being of sound mind and understanding fully what disposition I desire to make of whatever property of which I may own at my death do make and publish this as my last will and testament hereby revoking all former wills, if made by me.

First. I desire that after my death that I shall have decent burial and that the same shall be paid for out of any money I may have or if I have no money that W^m Hall shall pay for burial in view of the bequest I make to him.

2nd I will and bequeath to W^m Hall or his heirs if he is not alive, all of the property of every kind of which I may be possessed after paying my burial expenses as above set out. My reason for leaving him all that I have is, that had it not been for the interest he took in me & the money he paid out for me, I would have had nothing to leave and would have been very destitute while I lived, after my husband's death.

3rd I desire that W^m Hall shall execute this will without bond.

I desire that my household effects shall be given to such of my relatives as I shall privately direct. W^m Hall to give them to, unless it shall be necessary to sell them to get money to help defray my burial expenses.

Attest

We saw this instrument at the request of Mary Boyer and in her presence as her last will and testament believing she is fully aware of the final disposition she is hereby making of her property.
