John Hunter's Will. *

I John Hunter of the County of Washington and State of Georgia being sick and weak in body, but of sound mind and disposing judgment, calling to mind the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, do make and publish my last will and testament, in manner and form following, viz:

Section 1st It is my will that shortly after my death my funeral expenses, and all my debts to be paid by my executors, out of any monies which may be due me at my death and from the other means hereafter specified for that purpose, (viz) it is my will that shortly after my death my executors sell so much of the personal property, of my kind that they may, in their judgment think proper and that can be spared from the use of the family; and also any one or more of my negro slaves that they may think proper and that may be necessary for the payment of my debts; the sales may be made at public auction or by private sale, on a credit or for cash in hand, at the option of said Executors.

Section 2^d I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife Mary my plantation whereon I now live and all my slaves and other property of every description (except such as shall be sold in accordance with the provisions of the 1st section of this Will) to be under the control and management of said Executress for the support and maintenance of herself and family, but for the education of the children during her natural life; but when any of my children that are single shall marry or leave home, it is my will and wish that then neither give to each of them a portion of household furniture and other property equal to what each of them have who are married and have left home, which shall not be taken into the account of the equalization of the heirs hereafter to be provided for.

Section 3rd It is my will that after the death of my wife the plantation be equally divided between my two eldest sons Montgomery L. Hunter and William W. Hunter, the division line to commence midway of the river line of the whole tract, and run to the back line so as to give equal quantity on each side, then leaving to have choice of tract. Each tract to be valued at a cash value given by two disinterested freeholders chosen by the parties concerned, and such of the said Montgomery and William to pay to the following named heirs (viz) Elizabeth Ann McLean, Amanda P. Cadyp, J. E. R. Hunter, Jane R. Hunter, Dennis S. Hunter, Margaret M. Hunter and Henry H. Hunter such amount as will make all of said heirs equal, including said Montgomery and William, and any improvement in building &c that either of them may make on the land at their own expense before the death of their mother, or before the division or valuation, it shall not be taken into the valuation of said tract. Also, that all my negro slaves (except such as shall be sold in accordance with the 1st section of this Will) together with household property that may remain after the death of my wife be equally divided between all my children or their heirs, and in case of the
