Henry Hartman's Will

State of Tennessee March 23 1838 Washington County The last Will and Testament of Henry Hartman I am living in my right mind and perfect in my senses I do will and bequeath to my wife Polly Hartman one note of hand on John Blair for fifty dollars, to have and use as she please and also, I do will and bequeath my wife Polly Hartman, the young bay mare to have and to hold and as she please, also one good Bed and clothes also the household and ware, what would be necessary for her and one boar, and one Sall, and her own saddle all the above articles I do will and bequeath to my wife Polly Hartman to have and to hold forever, and also to have her maintenance off of the plantation where we now live on. I will and bequeath to Jonathan and Henry Hartman, my two eldest sons the plantation adjoining that of John Hartman George Hall, to be divided as equal as can be done, and then for my two sons Jonathan to have choice and the benefit of the half from this time, and the other half the rents or proceeds is to go to the use of raising the family till the age of twenty one, then he is to have it, which tract of land is for the two to have and to hold forever. I also will to my son Jonathan Hartman the young deer mare for his own. I do also will will and bequeath to my two youngest sons, to wit Sepia Paine Hartman and John Blair Hartman the plantation where I now live to be equally divided between them at the time they may arrive at age of twenty one years old, but it is not to effect their mother maintain and during their natural life. I do also will and bequeath to my six daughters to have and to hold forever the plantation now commonly known to be called if said Hallman does not pay first and agreeable to contract, then my six daughters is to have the same and divide the proceeds equal share and have a like with all the interest or proceeds from this time. It is to be agreed that the legatee, executors and all the heirs in title is to receive

in this place where we now live till the youngest child arrives at the age of twenty one years old, then to be sold and equally divided between all of my sons and daughters share and share alike. It is also to be remembered that my third youngest son is to have a horse beast spicer and saddle against the arrival at the age of twenty one which is to be raised from the proceeds of this place and the money it Hartman's descendants to be comes of the age of twenty one, then the balance to come off of the home place. Also Matilda is to have four head of sheep and one cow and calf and ten dollars in money. I also will to my daughter Judith as good a bed and clothes the other girls has got, and one boar and leap, four head of sheep and one spinney wheel. Also all the stock to remain on the place for the benefit of raising and schooling the family. I want the three youngest sons to learn to read, write and cipher. It is to be remembered that after the Doctor is paid and my funeral expenses is all paid, the balance of my estate is all to be left on interest till the youngest child comes to the age of twenty one then to be divided between the sons and daughters share and share alike. I also leave my household furniture to remain as it now is till the youngest child arrives at the age of twenty one then to be sold and divided share and share alike. Given under my hand and seal this 24th of March 1838. I also wish my son Jonathan Hartman and John Martin to execute this Will, this 24 March 1838.
