My executor may sell my real and personal property either at public or private sale as he may think best. And out of the sale of my property, or from the debts due me, my executor is authorized if in his judgment he thinks it proper to hire and retain the first twelve months of my Tenure Farm, and then have a number of the first volume bound, and sold. My executor is also further authorized to continue the publication of the Tenure Farm to the end of the third year or longer if he should think proper to do so, and may procure a competent person to superintend its publication. I also authorize my executor to continue the contract with Jason R Lyon to the end of the year should my decease take place before that event, and to receive the payment he is to make me in printing instead of money, as provided for in said agreement. But all these matters are submitted to the sound discretion and judgment of my executor. Should my executor not find it convenient to sell my Printing Press, he is authorized to lease or rent it upon such terms and for such period as he may think prudent. If the contract with Lyon is continued, and my wife orders the printing boys which I have, she must be paid for their board, clothing and washing out of my estate. I hereby appoint my esteemed friend Arthur Eason, of Amherst, my sole executor of my said last Will and Testament, and my will and desire is, that he should not be required to give security for the performance of the duties of executor as aforesaid. From any cause which should my friend Mr. Eason decline, or be prevented from serving as executor, which I most sincerely hope may not be the case, then and in that case, I hereby appoint my brother Arthur Emerson of Portsmouth Virginia, and my son Thomas B Emerson executors of this my last Will and Testament, with all the rights and privileges hereby conferred upon Mr. Eason.
