William Smith's Will.

In the name of God Amen.

I William Smith, now a resident of Washington County East Tennessee, being weak in body, but of strong mind and recollection with the usual qualifications of memory, according to my age, and calling to mind that it is appointed unto all men once to die, I hereby make and constitute this my last Will and Testament. Henceforth I consign my body to the team and my soul to them that created it, in hopes that at the day of resurrection they will be united together to join the long with Moses and the Lamb. And as it respects my personal estate that God has blessed me with, I will and dispose of them in the following manner. I will that two hundred and two acres of land that I own Capin Creek in Washington County on the South side of Noble's Churchy river joining Godfrey Macks and the big Survey, shall be and be hereby left to my two sons John Smith and his brother David Smith, to have the full benefit of said land equally also, all the balance of my property after my debts are paid and I have a secret burial shall be equally divided between my two sons. The property consists of one still and tubs and all the clothing, bedding & what is left in my house when I die. Also my mare saddle and bridle, I leave to them to be equal as the land or the other property. Also my two guns I will that they have after my death, and in full reason of mind and memory I hereunto set my hand and affix my seal this sixteenth day of July 1834 and also appoint Michael Caff my Executor.
