I have allowed the Adm^r for his services $150, which I think reasonable & cheap. The Adm^r reports that there are a few law books, of but little value, that he has not been able to sell. Also a small table unsold. He also reports that there are some debts uncollectible, some of which are disputed (acts) and some that are uncollectible, a full list of which he would herewith file, but to save expense has not done so. All of which is respectfully submitted.

I, Daniel Clark do make and publish this as my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking and making void all others, by me at any time made.

First, I direct that my funeral expenses and all my debts be paid as soon after my death as possible, out of any money that I may be possessed of, or may just come into the hands of my Executor.

Secondly, give and bequeath to my beloved wife Mourning Clark to be used and enjoyed as she sees proper, all of the personal property, all of the debts, and all of the money I may have at the time of my death, I also bequeath to her, to be used and enjoyed by her, during her life time, the following described lands, viz: The place on which I now live, containing Four Hundred Acres, bought by me of Rezinah Walker, also, a tract of land purchased by me of Jefferson Leftwich, which purchase has not been reduced to writing, but the purchase stands as follows, said Leftwich is indebted to me a large sum for which I have his notes, for which he agrees to convey to me all his land lying south of the Sparta and Cynthiana road, in payment of his said indebtedness to me, but the said Leftwich had the liberty of retaining that portion of it give land embraced in the boundary between said Sparta and Cynthiana roads, and a condition, running North and South, or nearly so, in which amount, he gets a credit on his debts to me, for an amount that would be in proportion to all the land south of the road for all the debt he owes me.

Thirdly, After the death of my said wife, I will and bequeath to my Son Waman Clark, the two tracts of land above described, as being bequeathed to my wife during her life time, and in the event that Jefferson Leftwich should fail to convey to me during my life, time, or after my death, to my Son Waman Clark, I will and bequeath to my said Son Waman Clark the debt I have on said Leftwich.

Fourthly, I give and bequeath all of the residue of my estate, consisting of my Clarktown property, stock of every description, notes, and other evidences of debts, and cash, that may be on hand at the death of my said wife, in equal proportions, to my four grand children, viz: Daniel M.
