

Sons of Nobility: Colonel George Lyddall

Colonel George Lyddall departed Middlesex, England and made his home in New Kent County, Virginia.

He was a member of the local militia who helped prevent Indian raids and massacres. He was kin to Sir Robert Peake of London who left a considerable estate to John Lyddall of Virginia. The Lyddall genealogy is traced for members of Virginia Pioneers List of Traced Virginia Families on this website