

REMARKABLE STORY,

OF A PROMINENT ATLANTA MERCHANDISE BROKER.

He Tells the Tale of Years of Suffering and Striving for Success—His Halt by the Wayside, and the Good Samaritan's Timely Aid.

WILLIAM C. PHELPS, ESQ.

Young Mr. Phelps, whose portrait adorns the head of this column, is one of the best known and most active of Atlanta's coterie of bright, energetic young business men. He is a native of Georgia, although he spent many of his earlier years in New York. His business is that of a merchandise broker, and his active and energetic nature has made him, as has been said, as well known in all matters of a public spirited character as any man of his years (23) in Atlanta. He was born in Columbus, and his acquaintances all over the State will in recognizing his familiar features.

HAVE NO DIFFICULTY

He says in a note of recent date to a well known firm of home manufacturers: Gentlemen—It gives me great pleasure to certify to a permanent cure which your Hunnicutt's Rheumatic Cure has made on me. I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and have suffered untold agonies from it. My general health was broken down, and I could not get even temporary relief from any of the numerous advertised remedies, and was neither cured nor improved under the treatment of numerous physicians.

But now I am well and never feel the least return of the disease. I have gained in weight and feel like a new man.

Allow me now to say that two bottles of Hunnicutt's Rheumatic Cure effected this almost miraculous cure. I recommend it as the best remedy on earth.

With best wishes for your success,

I am yours truly,

(Signed)

WM. C. PHELPS.

Atlanta, Ga., April 5, 1886.