No. 1102 Hull Street, {
A joint session of the City Council will be held to-night, when several city oillcials will be closted. There will be opposition to Judge Clopton as City Attorney, but from indications last night it is probable he will be re-elected.

Mr. Charlie Page, who has been mentioned by his friends as a candidate for the position, said he wesid not let his name be presented if he were presumed to be a candidate on the ground of the stand he took in the recent street car strike.
Judge Clopton is away on his vacation, and will not be back in time to look after his interests in the contest, but his

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:
Dear Sir,—As the impression has been oreated through the papers that the opposition to Judge Clopton, the present City Attorney of Manchester, or that anticipated, presentation of my name for the position, in the City Council of Manchester grows out of the feeling engendered by the late strike, I ask your permission to say through your columns, that under no circumstances would I permit my name to be used for any such purpossion, the council of the City Council, or any of its members, I feel assured that they are, one and all, of the like mind.

The fact is, that I was spoken to on the subject by a member of the Council several months ago, certainly some time before the recent strike, who informed me that a number of the Council—a majority, he thought—including himself—desired to make a change in the City Atterner.

I told him that it was a, position of grave responsibility which I would not care to seek under any draumstances, and care to seek under any circumstances, and that I did not care to oppose Judge Clopton personally; but that, If a majority of the Council really desired my services, and should tender me the position, I did not feel that I could refuse to senve.

This, I repeat, occurred long before the strike, I have not since, by word or the strike, I have not since, by and of the strike of the liquid of the strike of th

THE PLAN INGENIOUS

Republicans' Scheme to Build Independent Party.

AN APPEAL IS ISSUED

They Hope to Get Together the Labor Vote-Opporents of the Mann Bill and the Republican Organization.

The Republicans of Richmond city, or certainly that faction of which Mr. J. M. Ellett is chairman, has outlined its policy in the matter of nominating candidates for the Senate and House of Delegates. It is neither more nor less than en ingenious plan to effect a fusion of the labor vote, the opponents of the Mann bill, the element opposed to the new Constitution and the Republican organization into a compact coalition with the purpose of nominating a ticket in opposition to the Democratic primary candidates. In order to accomplish this coalition the Republican organization has to be issued an appeal to all these elements to refrain from particapting in the Democratic primary, and thereby binding themselves to vote for its nominees in November. The idea is that if any considerable number of those heretofore affliated with the Democrats can be withheld from par-icipation in the primary, the vote cast in that election will be so small as to make an inviting field for candidates who shall be acceptable to the labor vote, the anti-prohibition vote and the anti-Consti-

NOT HEAVY VOTE

NOT HEAVY VOTE.

There are but seven Democratic candidates for the five seats in the House, and besides this only the committee are to be voted for in the primary, and under these conditions it is not expected that a heavy vote will be polied. In the event that only about three thousand votes are polied out of the nine thousand registered, then the Republican-anti-prohibition-labor coalition, if effected, would apparently stand a chance of electing its ticket, with six thousand non-participating voters from which to draw.

That, in briof, is the Republican policy, awaiting game with an appeal to Democratic malcontents, organized labor and anti-prohibitionists to refrain from participation in the Democratic primary with the hope that the Republicans may name candidates acceptable to them, it is a bold stroke, the idea apparently being that if Richmond, the Democratic Cibraiter, can be captured by an anti-Democratic coalition ticket it will greatly in spire the Republican party of the State and attract to it all the elements, which may be dissatisfied with the Democratic administration of the affairs of the State and with its course in passing the Mann bill.

REMANNS TO BE SEEN.

REMAINS TO BE SEEN.

REMANS TO BE SEEN.

Whether or not this plan will be sufficiently fruitful of results to prove formidable to the Democrats remains to be seen. There is no hope of Republican success otherwise, and the plan outlined alone offers hope of the rehabilitation of their party in this city.

It should be stated, however, that the old Depublican party of the Republicans hold aloof from the dominant faction, and others openly declare for a lilly white party. One was heard yesterday to say that he would have nothing to do with the movement, that it was formulated by a meeting held in a negro hall and in the negro section of the city, and that he was tired of trying to carry the incubus of the negro. Just how many there are who negro. Just how many there are who share his sentiments remains to be seen. Another, General Edgar Allen, when saked as to the meeting Monday night, stated that he not only did not know what img was to be held.

The Republican City Committee, of which J. M. Ellett is chairman and Geo. S. Stephens, colored, secretary, met Monday night at Custalo's hall. The session was executive, but the meeting is described as having been harmonious. There was a large proportion of the committee either present or represented by proxy. URGED TO REGISTER.
