PREFACE.

THIS work contains the registers of the baptisms, marriages, and burials at the Parish Church of St. George, Wilton, adjoining Taunton, in the County of Somerset, from A.D. 1558 to A.D. 1837. It was intended to print only the elder, and, as it was considered, more interesting portion from A.D. 1558 to A.D. 1714, but it having been pointed out that the value of the transcript would be much increased if it extended to A.D. 1837, as in England the first Act was passed in 1836, which supplemented the ecclesiastical mode of registration by a civil one, and provided in London a general registry office at Somerset House for England and Wales, it was decided, after due consideration, to bring it down to that date.

The following notes, compiled chiefly from Sim's Manual for the Topographer and Genealogist, and Parish Registers in England, by R. E. Chester Waters, may be useful in obtaining a clearer understanding of the reasons for dividing the registers into the various groups, as more particularly described hereafter.

The evidence afforded by Parochial Registers is of the first class, and there is scarcely a claim of peerage or case of heirship on record, which has not been proved in part by them.

At the dissolution of the monasteries, in the year 1535, the dispersion of the monks, who were, up to that period, the principal register keepers, gave rise, probably, to a mandate issued in 1538, by Thomas Cromwell, afterwards Earl of Essex, the Vicar-General, for the keeping of registers of baptisms, marriages and burials, in each parish.

The state of public feeling in the West of England, showing the aversion to this mandate, is described by Sir Piers Edgcomb in a letter to Crumwell, dated 20th April, 1539, and may account for Register No. 1 not commencing in this parish until 1558. Afterwards, in the reign of Elizabeth, it was ordered that every minister, at his institution, should subscribe to this protestation: "I shall keep the register booke according to the Queene's Majesties injunction."

The registers not being so regularly entered and preserved as was necessary, it was ordained, by a constitution made by the archbishops and clergy of Canterbury, 25th of October, 1597, that parchment register books should be purchased at the expense of each parish and that there should be transcribed, at the same parish cost, from the paper books then in use, into the parchment registers, not only the names of those who have been baptized, married, or buried during the reign of the then Queen (which commenced 1558, a period of thirty-nine years prior to the mandate), but also the names of those who thenceforth should be baptized, married, or buried. Such transcripts to be examined, and their correctness certified at the bottom of each page, by the clergyman and churchwardens; consequently the names of James Jones, curate, Robert Ball and Christopher Smith, churchwardens, appear on each page of Register No. 1 of baptisms until 1598, of marriages until 1596, and of burials until 1595.

During the civil war the register is imperfect, as in the interval between the years 1643 and 1654 no entry of marriage occurs, and very few christenings and burials.

In 1678 an Act was passed requiring the clergy to make an entry in the register that the provisions of a previous enactment "for burying in woollen" had been fulfilled. This does not appear to have been strictly regarded, although an entry to that effect occurs in 1688, page 80, and, after the lapse of more than a century, several references are again made between the years 1801-5 (pages 130, 131) to the legal affidavit.

In 1694, amongst other taxes for carrying on war against France, a graduated scale of duties was imposed for five years upon births, marriages, and burials, and the clergy were, in 1695, required to keep a register of all births in the parish, whether the children were baptized or not. Many registers, therefore, of this date record the birth as well as the baptism. The entries on page 37 illustrate this, where the names of five children of one family seem to have been entered at the same time in 1697. However, the register during those five years was not well kept, as it is evident that there must be many omissions.

In 1711, in consequence of the "inconvenience which daily grew" from solemnizing clandestine marriages, an Act was passed imposing certain penalties on clergymen offending. Amongst other clauses, it was directed that the churchwardens and chapelwardens of every parish or chapelry should provide books of vellum or good paper in which all marriages and bans of marriage should be registered; that the pages should be numbered and ruled with lines at proper and equal distances, and that the bans and marriages should be registered and signed by the clergyman; and that the books should be carefully kept for public use; and that the marriages should be in the presence of two witnesses, and that all parties should sign their names to a register thereof.

Register No. 2 commences with an entry of baptism in January, 1714, and, with the exception of two marriages, all the entries are of a date subsequent to the date of this Act of 1711. The Act of 1754 having rendered it necessary to the legality of a marriage, that it should be solemnized in some church or chapel where bans had been theretofore usually published, the Court of King's Bench was compelled, in 1781, to declare a marriage void which had been duly solemnized in a consecrated chapel erected in 1765. An Act of Parliament was, therefore, immediately passed declaring that all marriages solemnized before the 1st of August, 1781, in any church or public chapel erected and consecrated since the 20th Geo. II, should be good and valid in law, and that the registers of such marriages, or copies thereof, should be received in all courts as evidence; and that the registers of all marriages solemnized in any such chapels should, within twenty days, be removed to the parish church of the parish in which such chapel should be situated, to be kept with the marriage register of such parish. As Register No. 3 dates from 1755, it was commenced soon after the passing of this Act of 1754.

The Stamp Act of 1783 for the first time imposed a duty of threepence upon every entry in the parish register, and this objectionable tax tended in many places to make the records defective until it was repealed in 1794. However, in this parish during that period the register appears to be complete.

The last legal interference respecting registers was the Act of 52 Geo. III, c. 146, which, after reciting that the amending the manner and form of keeping and preserving registers of baptisms, marriages, and burials of his Majesty's subjects, in the several parishes and places of England, would greatly facilitate the proof of pedigrees of persons claiming to be entitled to real or personal estates, enacts that new books of registers, with new forms, should be used by all parishes after the 31st December, 1812. The baptisms, marriages, and burials were to be registered in separate books, the registers of each parish were to be preserved in an iron chest, and annual copies were to be sent to the bishop's registrar of the diocese, who was likewise to be furnished with lists of extant register books.

Registers Nos. 4, 5, and 6 appear to have been promptly provided, as the entries in two of them date from January, 1813, and no doubt the iron chest in which the books are now kept was procured at the same time.

The records now transcribed are contained in the six books before referred to; the first, being a register of baptisms, marriages, and deaths, is dated 1590, but was evidently copied from an older book, as the entries begin in 1558, the first year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. It consists of a book, or roll, of 74 pages of parchment about 12½ inches by 9 inches, and, in addition, there are eight smaller pages about 10 inches by 8 inches, sewn into the middle of the roll, making a total of 82 pages, corresponding with the first 82 pages in this work, but as the entries on the small pages are very irregular, they have been placed as far as possible, according to date, nearest to the larger pages with which they are connected, and have been distinguished from them by a foot-note. This roll carries the records generally down to the year 1714.

The second book contains baptisms from 1714 to 1812, marriages from 1705 to 1754, and burials from 1714 to 1812; it is of parchment, with pages about 14½ inches by 7½ inches.

The third book contains marriages only from 1755 to 1812, and is, as well as all the remaining ones, of paper.

Books Nos. 4, 5, and 6 contain the baptisms, marriages, and burials from 1813 to 1837, and, in the case of the baptisms and burials, the entries are continued in the same books to the years 1854 and 1874 respectively, but are not printed in this work, for the reason before stated, beyond the year 1837.

It will be noticed that certain obvious errors in the entries have not been corrected, it being felt that more value would be attached and interest created in a volume which reproduced as closely as possible all the peculiarities of the original documents, than one from which they had been eliminated.

The parishioners of Wilton may be congratulated upon possessing so nearly complete a set of registers; the result of having careful, and, for the most part, law abiding custodians, for a period of more than three centuries.

My sincere thanks are given to the Vicar and Churchwardens, past and present, and many friends who by their kind co-operation, sympathy, and suggestions, have materially lightened my labour in connection with the transcript.

^{2, 3} The form of the early Christian symbol on the Title page and Cover is taken from the Cemetery of St. Agnes in the Catacombs of Rome, and has been introduced because it is a combination of the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, the patron Saints, respectively, of the parish of Wilton and the diocese of Bath and Wells. It also contains the Monogram χ or contracted form of the Greek name of Christ. As the Hebrew letters Aleph and Tau in their commonly accepted forms, identical with the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George, are here connected with the Greek rho, this expressive device conveys the idea of the Rabbinic "From Aleph even unto Tau," as well as the Greek "I am Alpha and Omega," the Christ.

The following are three fac-simile specimens of inscriptions taken from pages 1, 59, 79, Register, No. 1.

John George and Elizabeth were married by early day of May.

from domini 1614

Christian Durston the wife of Robert Durston was buried the 6th day of September Anno Domini 1693

John Hamwode filius Johannis Hamwode baptizatus erat octo die mensis Julij Anno Domini 1591.

Anno domini 1614.

Henry Hayne and Elizabeth Gildens were married the tenth day of May.

Christian Durston the wife of Robert Durston was buried the 6th day of September Anno Domini 1693.

As Wilton was originally a Chapelry annexed to Taunton, it is difficult to get a list of the Curates, Chaplains, Incumbents, and Vicars, for such were the titles of the clergy attached to the church at various dates. The following list of institutions from A.D. 1790 was extracted from the Registry of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, the previous names having been obtained from the pages of the Registers themselves, and other sources, but it cannot be regarded as a complete record.
