A Monograph of the Andersons, Clark, Marshall and McArthur Connection
by Thomas McArthur Anderson:

"Ten years before this date [1635] Thomas and John Anderson, two Englishmen, came to Jamestown in the ship, Bonaventure. The next year there came Richard Anderson, age 50, in the ship Merchant Hope. He was Probably the father of Thomas and John, as Richard has been a family name in this branch ever since...The tradition is that the founder of the family was Thomas Anderson of Northumberland, England, who settled as a shipwright at Gloucester Point, comes from the History of Virginia Andersons...by Mr. Brock...I received my opinion from a Colonel Robert Waller, an aged gentleman I met in Williamsburg in 1866. He told me that in his student days he had gone to William and Mary College with a relative of mine and that he had long been familiar with our family history. He said that the first Virginia Anderson was a shipwright at Gloucester Point. About the same time, General William Tolliefferro pointed out a place on the west side of the Chesapeake which he said had been the first home of the Andersons."

Richard Anderson, Jr. lived in York and Gloucester Cos., Va., across the York River from New Kent Co., where the former's son, Robert Anderson, died. Notes from the Records of York County, 1/25/1646:

"Where is appearing to ye court by the Oath of Mr. Richard Anderson, Clerk, that he gave unto Thomas Hardy twoe Heifers and twoe calves for his service done for him. And that ye said Anderson made over the said cattle to George Hardy as in trust for the use of the said Thomas Hardy. And for as much as ye said Thomas Hardy hath petitioned to ye court that the said Mr. Richard Anderson might by order deliver to him the said cattle, This court doth therefore order that the said Mr. Richard Anderson to George Hardy be void and of no force against him for the said cattle."
