

DESCRIPTION

Subject and significance:

Georgia State Archives Folder Collection

CARMICHAEL GENERAL STORE. J. H. Carmichael & Sons sold "horse collars to coffins". The store stood at the crossing which was a streetcar stop on the Marietta-Atlanta line known as Carmichael's Crossing. Built by present owner's grandfather, J. H. Carmichael and operated a majority of the time by John Vinson Carmichael. This is the second Carmichael store that stood on this site. Building still stands without porch.

John Vinson Carmichael
owner

Location: Log Cabin Drive, Smyrna	Date photo made: 1915
Size of original: 8 x 10	Type of item:
Photographer/Artist name & address:	Index headings: Business - Stores Carmichael
Carmichael General Store
Control #: COB-409

DESCRIPTION

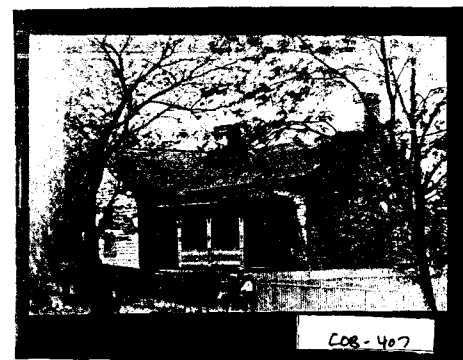

Subject and significance:

www.georgiapioneers.com

MURRAY HOUSE as it was originally built.

Second story added about 1890.

Ralph Murray

Location: Fowler Springs Street, Marietta	Date photo made: 1880
Size of original: 4 x 6 1/2	Type of item:
Photographer/Artist name & address:	Index headings: Buildings - Murray House
Murray House
Control #: COB-407	