

THE CITY.

Sparks from the R. R. Y. M. C. A.

The Sunday afternoon meetings are to be changed to a Sunday night meeting. The first was held last Sunday night and conducted by G. C. Jenner. Mr. Williams, State secretary, was present and assisted. The meeting was very successful.

Cottage meeting was held at Mac. Dawson's, 174 Hayne street, last night.

Died in Chattanooga.

Mrs. Thompson, wife of Col. Wm. B. Thompson, late superintendent of the railway mail service, and second assistant Postmaster-General, died yesterday in Chattanooga, at the home of her father, Judge D. M. Key, late Postmaster-General. The funeral occurs to-morrow at 3 p. m. Mrs. Thompson was the eldest daughter of Judge Key, and her's is the first death to occur in his large family. She had been married less than four years, and her death falls with crushing effect upon her husband and family. The many Atlanta friends of the gentleman named sorrow with them in their affliction.
